This damage increases to 2d6 at level 3, 3d6 at level 5, and 4d6 at level 7. At level 9, the rogue has become a master of finding a foe's weak points, the damage jumps to 5d10.

Level 1: Roguish Archetype

All rogues have a specialty, a focus for their activities that defines their career. Pick one of the following options. Each one gives you a special set of abilities.

- Acrobat. You gain a climb speed. You take no damage from falling. You can walk across surfaces as narrow as one inch, such as a rope.
- Arcane Trickster. You gain an illusionist cantrip of your choice and can cast one illusionist spell once per long rest. Each time you gain a level, you can swap those choices for different options. You use the rules for casting spells as per the illusionist class.
- Assassin. You are a hired killer capable of felling even the mightiest opponent with a single blow. You gain your Intelligence modifier as a bonus to damage rolls. As a search action, you can study a target within 30 feet. On your next turn, roll double the number of sneak attack dice you normally roll.
- Bardic Apprentice. You know how to play two musical instruments and gain proficiency with the performance skill, you gain expertise if you are already proficient with that skill. You can figure out how to use magic items that would otherwise require class-specific knowledge.
- Brawler. You gain an additional weapon proficiency and reduce the strength requirement for armor you wear by 1.
- Con Artist. You excel at adopting various disguises and personas to win trust. You have advantage on all checks made to convince others that you are a long lost friend, comrade, or member of their organization.
- Pirate. You gain an additional weapon proficiency and a swim speed. You know how to navigate by the constellations.
- Scout. You gain an additional weapon proficiency and proficiency with the Nature and Survival skills. If you are already proficient with a skill gained from this feature, you gain expertise with it. You also know how to navigate by the constellations.
- Thief. You gain a bonus to Stealth checks equal to your Intelligence modifier. If you are hidden and do anything on your turn to reveal yourself, you can try to hide again that turn. Normally when you reveal yourself you cannot try to hide again.

Level 3: Cunning Action

Once on your turn, you can dash, disengage, or hide without using your action.

Level 3: Ability Bonus

You gain a +1 bonus to two different abilities of your choice.

Level 7: Ability Bonus

You gain a +1 bonus to two different abilities of your choice.

Level 9: Uncanny Dodge

You halve the damage you take from a single attack or effect. Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until your next turn.

Rogues make great dungeon delvers.
